

BEING TRANSGENDER DURING TRANS GENOCIDE

WRITTEN BY SOME ANGRY GIRLFAG IN FEBRUARY, 2025

As the occupied land referred to as the USA regresses into a fascist dictatorship things are very bleak for transgender people. Trump campaigned hard on trans genocide and began delivering as soon as he took office. From legally detransitioning trans people at a federal level to going to work erasing all information in federal records on transgender people Donald Trump is starting to erase us and preparing to do things that are much, much worse.

Fascists are determined to “eradicate transgenderism from public life” and we are reaching the final stages of trans genocide. They’re removing legal recognition of our existence. They’re trying to ban trans healthcare for people under 19 throughout the country. They’re going to try to ban trans healthcare for all ages like we’ve seen states try to do after banning it for minors. Based on what we’ve seen follow these attacks in some places we shouldn’t be surprised if they then try to make it a sex crime for transgender people to be in public. Prisons have begun to end access to hormones for inmates and it will likely soon become nationwide policy to shave heads and confiscate clothing of the other gender. Conditions for trans women will become even worse and prison is already essentially a death sentence for trans women.

Republicans have started pushing for laws that make it so that various sex crimes can result in a death sentence, they could try to apply that to trans people. Donald Trump has floated the idea of deporting criminals to “work” camps, this could include trans people. The legal attacks are also going to embolden people to carry out violence against transgender people, as we appear to be seeing already. Our enemies are going to kill as many of us as they can. Black trans people, indigenous trans people, transsexuals, trans women, full service sex workers, incarcerated trans people and homeless trans people are the most at risk.

A trans nihilist's rant

This genocidal movement is not something we can organize ourselves out of. We are not going to see trans liberation. No revolution is coming to save transgender people. Even the measly crumbs of assimilation that were offered to some are being taken back. We're fucked. This war is being waged on our existence and we need to fight them not because we'll win, I really do not think we will, but because of all that has been taken from us. Fight for revenge, for the joy that comes from destruction and from making their lives hell(or from taking their lives). Show them the consequences for making it so that we really have nothing to lose.

Staying out of Spite

Fascism relies heavily on using fear to force compliance. I will not comply.

They want us to hide who we are, to detransition, to go into the closet. I have heard people talking about doing these things??? That could not be me! I will lean into my queerness and live as much as possible in revolt against cisnormativity and civilization as a whole.

It feels so incredibly hard to stay alive right now. With how bleak things are and what we possibly have in store it can at times feel somewhat nonsensical to stick around for even worse horrors. Sometimes I really don't think I can handle all of this. I don't believe people are obligated to stay alive. If trans genocide progresses more and more rapidly it might not be that long that I'm around but for now I can't give these fascists what they want.

These fuckers want us dead, I am going to do whatever I can to stay alive for now. In his book Antifa: The Anti-Fascist Handbook Mark Bray says "When we speak about anti-fascism, we must not forget that, for many, survival was the physical embodiment of anti-fascism." I believe that part of my antifascist resistance is doing whatever I can to keep myself alive. Even if everything is so horrific and the grief overwhelms, I'll fight to survive out of spite. To survive to fight fascists.

"Even from a place of utter hopelessness, we can still find the jouissance in our bodies to attack... Jouissance is that which animates resistance for its own sake so that even if we have no future, we can still find life today."

-Blessed is the Flame by Serafinski